Male Teachers Scarce
AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 18.—Scarcity of male teachers in Texas has resulted in a serious problem, according to Prof. W. T. Doughty, state superintendent of public instruction who has just returned from attending teachers' institutes in various portions of the state. In many cases, he says, he observed that the wives of teachers who had joined the army were taking their husbands' places. Those male teachers who have not joined the army, says Mr. Doughty, have engaged in more lucrative work. The situation is so acute that Superintendent Doughty has addressed a communication to the county superintendents of the different counties, requesting specific information as to the conditions. Over 10,000 male teachers in Texas have deserted the school room for the army or more attractive places in other pursuits.

OBESITY DISAPPEARS TO AMAZING DEGREE AMONG THE GERMANS

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—War diet in Germany has accomplished a greater reduction of the corpulence of the average German than all the Marichon cures, Russian baths and drastic courses of exercise.

Obesity, writes Professor Albu, in the Berlin Lokalanzeiger, has disappeared to an amazing degree, especially in the urban centers. The disappearance of excessive flesh has been more thorough than any medical treatment could have effected, says the professor.

The war diet, he asserts, has been an education and a cure for many who had given up all hope. It has upset medical prognostications that were once regarded as incontrovertible.

"I have known people," says Prof. Albu, "who in two years time dropped 50 and 100 pounds so that their friends scarcely knew them. They could almost cut up an old suit and make two new ones out of the material without having to bother about a clothes card."

The writer then repeats the now trite remark that "we all eat too much," and he adds that most corpulent persons involuntarily reduced their girth without any injury to their health whatever. He emphasizes the fact that this attenuation is not due to under-nourishment alone. A very great deal is due, he says, to unaccustomed bodily exertion and severe mental strain. Sorrow and vexation, the thousand-and-one domestic worries and troubles caused by the war tend to prevent the formation of flesh. People at home are generally more prone to giving away to mental work than the men in the trenches. Hereditary obesity, he adds, has in no way been cured by the reduced war diet.

Professor Albu says he has found a distinct improvement in the state of health of diabetics, who can now eat with impunity bread, potatoes and other foodstuffs that were formerly taboo to them.

Sufferers from gout have also benefited by the reduction in the meat diet and by the enforced abstinence from alcoholic liquors. Rheumatism especially of the muscles has also become rarer.

Indigestion has, in Professor Albu's opinion, certainly improved on the smaller bill of fare, which has had a beneficial effect on the activities of the digestive tract.

All sorts of slight nervous ailments, especially among women, have disappeared because less attention is being paid to them in these strenuous times. Of great scientific and practical value is the discovery that among the soldiers at the front sundry nervous affections of the heart, stomach and intestines have often completely vanished. The professor ascribes this to a strictly regular life in the open air. In the field as well as at home, especially among women, flagging nerves have received a marvelous brace-up.

Excellent music was furnished by the Fourth Artillery Band.

Let the Left-Overs Make a Meal

Many dishes owe their place in the world to a left-over. Try some of these recipes when you find some left-over, desserts or vegetables in your ice box.

Left-over Luncheon

Sausage and Rice Cakes. Stuffed Tomatoes with Sauce. French Tapioca. Chicken Hash with Potatoes. Stuffed Green Peppers. Salad. Rice Pudding with Stewed Fruit.

Hominy Balls, Creamed Hard Cooked Eggs, Bermuda Onion and Orange Salad, Huckleberry Dumplings.

RECIPES

Sautéed Tomatoes—Six large sliced tomatoes, 1 cup flour (may be corn or rice flour), 1/2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon fat, salt and pepper. (Any left-over sliced tomatoes, if firm and solid, may be kept covered with cold water for use next day.) Dry the slices of tomatoes if they have been in water, season with salt and pepper, and dredge both sides with flour. Melt fat in pan, when hot put in tomatoes, browning well on one side before turning. When both sides are brown remove the hot platter. Gradually add milk to flour and fat in the pan, stirring well. Pour this sauce around the tomatoes and serve.

French Tapioca—Soak one-half cup of granulated tapioca in one and one-half cups of cold water over night. In the morning add two cups of boiling water and a little salt, and let it boil five minutes. Then put in a double boiler and keep until clear. Take the remnants of a cup of peaches—these should be at least a cup, and if there is a bit or two all the better. Add a little more sweetening and simmer up. If the syrup is somewhat thickened, and stir into the cleared tapioca. Remove from the fire, cool and pour into a glass dish. Serve with sweetened cream.

Rice Pudding with Stewed Fruit—Two cups of rice pudding that has become very stiff when cold, and mix with it a cup of stewed and chopped tart peaches. Mix it lightly with a glass dish and serve it with the peach juice, sweetened and thickened with a little corn starch. Orange fruits than peaches may be used.

Bermuda Onion and Orange Salad—For the individual salad use one sliced Bermuda onion and two of orange. Serve on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Huckleberry Lumpings—1 1/2 cups of left-over huckleberries, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon water, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Put above ingredients into a saucepan and let them come just to the boil. While these are heating mix together one cup of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder and one and one-eighth teaspoon of salt. Beat up one egg. Add to it about two tablespoons of milk and stir lightly into the dry materials. There should be just enough to wet the flour, and make a very stiff dough. Drop by spoonfuls into the boiling huckleberries, cover tightly and boil ten minutes without removing the cover. Serve at once. A mixture of huckleberries and currants may be used, and the vinegar omitted.

NOTICE

Dr. L. Kaffie will be in his office, Kress Building (for school work) from 3:30 to 5:30 every day. Children wishing certificates and to be vaccinated must come during those hours.

Davy Glidden, son of Superintendent

Glidden of the Old Soldiers' Home, is a patriotic, lovable youngster of about thirteen, fond of listening to the stories of the old soldiers, and an active member of the Boy Scouts. The Soldiers' Home is situated on the outskirts of a little western town, and not far from the Big Top Copper Mine.

Davy's particular idol is Capt. Jericho Norton, an old soldier of about 75 years, who still maintains his military bearing and is a leader among the soldiers. He loves nothing better than to regale Davy with tales of the Civil and Spanish-American wars, in both of which he was a volunteer.

One day Mrs. John Edwards and her daughter Flora, wife and daughter of the superintendent of the mine, arrive at the Home to pay Mrs. Glidden a visit. Davy is secretly overjoyed, for he has long worshipped Flora from afar, although she is a much older girl than himself. They two walk about the grounds and listen to the captain's stories while their mothers are talking.

The captain's stories are often about those days and it is possible that that evening when he sees two men smoking about in the vicinity of the mine. A little later he sees an old man rise from the very spot where he heard the men. Hurrying back to the captain, Davy tells him what he has seen, and the two dash to watch from the same spot the following night.

Nazimova in "Toys of Fate" at the

Amuse Theatre Today

Nazimova plays greatest of her career. Her work in "Toys of Fate" surpasses her brilliant achievements in "Revelation."

Nazimova, the great Russian actress, has captured the climax of her brilliant career by her wonderful work in her latest screen play, "Toys of Fate," a screen play produced by Metro. This talented and internationally famous actress has combined in uniquely successful theatrical manner on Broadway with her latest screen play, "The Wild Duck," "The Doll's House," "Hedda Gabler" and other plays by the noted Scandinavian dramatist, Henrik Ibsen, comprising her repertoire of stage plays, and "Revelation" and "Toys of Fate," her picture features produced this year.

"Toys of Fate," her latest screen masterpiece, is a gripping drama in which the gifted actress is given wide scope to display her tremendous dramatic powers.

"Revelation," her first screen dramatic production, marked a new era in the art of motion pictures and was received by noted dramatic critics and the public as the greatest thing she had done on the stage or screen. "Toys of Fate" surpasses even this superb classic.

Nazimova was born in Russian Crimea, in a little town on the shores of the Black Sea. At the early age of twelve she began her artistic career in the study of music. Becoming proficient on the violin, she made her debut as a concert player, but soon left the musical for the dramatic stage. She studied under the great director Stanislavsky at the Artistic Theatre in Moscow, and eventually played as leading woman in a stock company, in more than two hundred parts.

Mrs. E. C. McCallan of Baltimore is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woessner, at the Tourist Hotel.

For Weak Women

In use for over 40 years! Thousands of voluntary letters from women, telling of the good Cardui has done them. This is the best proof of the value of Cardui. It proves that Cardui is a good medicine for women.

There are no harmful or habit-forming drugs in Cardui. It is composed only of mild, medicinal ingredients, with no bad after-effects.

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

You can rely on Cardui. Surely it will do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women! It should help. "I was taken sick, seemed to be . . . writes Mrs. Mary E. Vest, of Madison Heights, Va. "I got down so weak, could hardly walk . . . just staggered around. . . I read of Cardui, and after taking one bottle, or before taking quite all, I felt much better. I took 3 or 4 bottles at that time, and was able to do my work. I take it in the spring when run-down. I had no appetite, and I commenced eating. It is the best tonic I ever saw." Try Cardui.

Mohawk Tires

Hand-built

Mohawk "Quality" Tires give unusual service because unusual materials and methods are used in their construction. Hand-built to the smallest detail, of special fabric, absolutely pure gum friction, cushion and side stock and a tough, elastic tread. Not an ounce of shoddy or adulterants is used in either casing or tube. If built to order, no higher grade or better balanced tire could be made.

An Extra Ply of Fabric

The quantity of material in Mohawk "Quality" Tires is not skimmed. There is an extra ply of fabric in all 3 inch, 3 1-2 inch and 4 inch casings, four plies in the 3 inch, five plies in the 3 1-2 inch and six plies in the 4 inch. These sizes see hard service and by adding 20%-25% to the strength of the carcass, this great margin of safety frequently doubles the mileage obtained.
